VOLUME 53, NUMBER 1

"Serving Those Who Serve America"

JANUARY 2023

PRESIDENT'S COMMENTS

Like many others I think when December appears on our calendar we begin to reflect in what was and what the new year will be like. Many of us will look at a particular event or activity that brought us together and left us with a new experience and of how we want to reach out strengthen those relationships. We come together for a monthly membership meetings, the meetings of our wives group, our social gatherings, the pub crawl, our annual lobster feed, and last but not least our annual Christmas party. All these activities are the building blocks that bring us together to share common values and support the interest of each other. Our interests go beyond social activities. We received legislative updates prepared for the benefit of all of our members. Our scholarship committee works throughout the year to provide support for those looking for financial assistance.

That was our past, what is our interest in our future. We know that our membership is not likely to grow. What we can do is to look for new ways that we can come together with activities that will enrich our lives. One idea that comes to my mind is to set up some one day bus trips that we can travel throughout the local area visiting our forest, our mountains, and our seashores. There are opportunities for us to assist in service organizations like the food bank. The whole point is we don't want to live in the past, but we want to look forward to the future. I realize we all don't have the same energy levels that we once had. I know we have many other interests and obligations. But for us to remain as a strong and viable organization, we need the active support and interest from all of our members. I'm always open for your comments and input.

Legislative Update- January 2023

General Comments: As we are in the “winter doldrums”, so to speak, in regards to our legislative activity, I have been reflecting on possible new directions in regards to these articles. However, I urge everyone to get involved in our advocacy effort with our legislators as well as with MOAA and CALMOAA. Pass any information on to all either through the MOAA Voice or by email - just get the word out!

Based on conversations with some of our members, I have a gut feeling that more information should be provided either through information passed on in the articles, or by references to other websites for more detailed and more current information is available. Examples of these besides the MOAA magazine, include the CALVET website, CALMOAA website, and others.

MOAA.ORG website is an excellent starting point.

Though much information is available, it is almost essential to be either a Prime or a Life Member to have access to everything on the MOAA website. There is wealth of information available with only a push of the finger.

The News Letter keeps you up to date on as weekly basis if desired. Find this under the News and Info tab where you will be shown how to subscribe to this. I recommend a weekly letter due to this fast moving environment.

Publications & Reports shows an extensive list of current publications available to Prime and Life Members. Take a look at the list.

Webinars are listed under the Events tab and also provide the most current topics in the form of video conferences. Well worth the time.

Surviving Spouses Corner (sscomm@moaa.org) is a very important tab for those survivors and those who should be prepared for such a situation. Surviving Spouses formally were “Auxiliary Members”. MOAA’s Surviving Spouses Corner and CALMOAA’s Surviving Spouses Chair Kathy Prout. These are very dynamic spouses who advocate and “push out the word” to all. I suggest getting involved through MOAA’s Facebook page. Also, Chapter President Johnson will work to set up a meeting with Kathy for our members sometime during the coming year if possible.

Legislative Advocacy provides an easy way to make your wishes known to your Congressperson or Senator. Just open the advocacy tab and it will guide you through the process which should not take more than a minute or two. Remember, our Legislators will only be inspired if you - their constituents - hear from you.

VA.GOV website is possibly the next best site for information. There is an abundance of information on this website for all including survivors.

WWW.CALVET.CA.GOV will give updates on the latest in this state. Unfortunately, there is no “one stop” solution for the many questions.

State:

Our legislative thrust in the next year will in the following topics.

Exemption of Military Retirement from State Income Tax. Work is in process to represent this subject in a bit of different form so we don’t muddy the water.

More Property Tax Relief for Disabled Vets. Updates to current legislation needs to be made to correct for inflation.

Transfer of Teaching Credentials from other States. This is needed to meet current teaching needs in California.

If you have any questions give me call, email, or whatever and we can discuss it.

Addendum to January 2023 Voice Latest Legislative Update

Information just came in and needs your immediate attention!

CALMOAA 3rd VP for Legislative Affairs, Jeff Breiton, forwarded a letter he sent to Governor Gavin Newsom via email to: which I send to for your information and future action. We will be using this as a template to be presented to our Assemblymen and State Senators. Please stay alert - once more, this will be an all hand effort.

“Governor Newsom;

“Assembly member James Ramos has introduced AB 46, “Exemption of Military Retirement from State Income Taxes”. We truly appreciate Assembly member Ramos for recognizing the significant contributions our military retirees and their spouses provide to California’s work force development and the $168 billion dollars the Defense Industry brings to California each year. Governor Newsom, it is time that California joins the other 49 states that currently provide an exemption on military retirement from state income taxes and support AB 46.

“Department of Defense Actuary Reports show that California had 165,502 retirees in 2010, and that number was reduced to 149,430 in 2020. That same DOD Actuary Report reveals a continued decline in California’s military retiree population, which as of 2021 has shrunk to 128,561. The decline in California’s military retiree population has a negative impact on federal funds that flow into California. Those federal funds follow the military retirees to the state they retire in. Both AZ and NV have seen an increase in their state’s military retiree population during this same period.

“A 2021 study, conducted by the California Research Bureau, California State Library on “National Economic Impact Studies states; California is home to the nation’s largest concentration of military personnel and other national security activity. The study states that in 2020 military and national security activities generated an estimated $168.7 billion in economic activity, approximately 5.4% of California’s economy.

“Military retirees, with an average age of 42, who have spent the last 20 years serving our country as Medical Professionals, in field of National Security, as Engineers, Aviation

Maintenance, Engineers, Space Force and Vocational Trades provide the state with a valuable work force. Many military retirees already have security clearances, and are ready from the first day of retirement to enter national security professions that California, currently has a shortage of. Studies conducted by the San Diego Military Council clearly show that these 2nd careers generate millions of dollars of additional revenue for local communities, counties and California from local taxes, sales taxes and state taxes on the salaries of those 2nd careers.

"Keep military retirees and their valuable skill set in California and support AB 46.

"Respectfully.

Jeffrey L Breiten, 3rd Vice-President. Legislative Affairs"

EDITORS NOTE:

This MOAA VOICE had portions of the columns with nothing on it. Rather than leaving them blank, we have decided to fill them with humor (Jokes), so enjoy....rrs

BLONDE girl in her late teens, wanting to earn some extra money for the summer, decided to hire herself out as a "handy woman"...and started canvassing her nearby well-to-do neighborhood.

She went to the front door of the first house and asked the owner if he had any odd jobs for her to do. "Well, I guess I could use somebody to paint the porch. How much will you charge me?"

Delighted, the girl quickly responded, "How about $50?"

The man agreed and told her that the paint and brushes and everything she would need were in the garage. The man's wife, hearing the conversation, said to her husband, "Does she realize that our porch goes ALL the way around the house?"

"That's a bit cynical, isn't it?" he responded. "She's young and realizes she needs the experience."

The wife replied, "You're right. I guess I'm starting to believe all those dumb blonde jokes."

A few hours later the blonde came to the door to collect her money. "You're finished already??" the startled husband asked.

"Yes," the blonde replied, "and I even had paint left over so I gave it two coats." Impressed, and anxious to go see, the man reached into his pocket for the $50 and handed it to her, along with a $10 tip.

"Thank you," the blonde said, "And, by the way, it's not a Porch, it's a Lexus."

A farmer goes to the market to sell his horse for $2000, and a man buys it from him. The farmer says he'll deliver it to the man in one week's time. But halfway through the week the horse dies.

The farmer offers to refund the man's money, but the man chooses to buy it anyway. The next week the farmer sees the man and asks him what he did with the dead horse.

The man says, "Oh, I held a lucky draw. Fifty dollars for a chance to win a horse. A hundred people entered, and I collected $5000."

The farmer is shocked and asks, "But wasn't anyone upset about the horse?"

The man replies, "Oh yes, only the winner. But I refunded him his $50."

Some guy bought a new fridge for his house. To get rid of his old fridge, he put it in his front yard and hung a sign on it reading "Free to good home. You want it, you take it." The fridge sat there without anyone looking twice. He eventually decided that people were too mistrustful of this deal. So he changed the sign to read "Fridge for sale $50." The next day someone stole it.

SCHOLARSHIP APPLICATIONS

The application period for COL William G. Brey Scholarships will open on January 1, 2023, and will close on March 15, 2023. Closing date is firm. Those eligible to apply for scholarship assistance are children, wards, and lineal descendants (including grandchildren, great-grandchildren, and great-great-grandchildren, natural or adopted) of living or deceased officer, warrant officer, or auxiliary members of the Chapter. Scholarship eligibility is limited to those pursuing undergraduate academic and professional certificate programs. Applications will not be accepted for support of graduate studies.

Our experience is that it can take some time for prospective applicants to gather all the required supporting documentation, then prepare and submit the completed application before the cutoff date. We therefore recommend that Chapter members advise eligible family members of scholarship availability and contact information early enough to give them sufficient reaction time.

Application forms are available. They may be obtained by writing to:

“Pub Crawl” is BACK!! by Ken Johnson

After the closing of the restaurant in the casino that we have been using for the past several months we went about trying to find new facility that would best meet our needs. After researching several of the facilities that would provide a pub like feeling (open bar) it was decided that the best place to meet would be at the Epicenter. There will be a change in the day of the week that we meet. Starting January 10, 2023 we are all set to meet the SECOND Tuesday of each month at 11:30. We may be either in the Trophy room or the back of the restaurant. As far as the menu goes, there is a weekly special which is normally very good, and a number of items we don't get at our lunches.

There is no one place that will meet all of our interest or needs. If in the future we feel the need for a new environment or a different experience we will put that on the table and talk about it.

A special thanks to those who have helped locate a new place to celebrate pub crawl, especially Susan who's giving me a lot of support. PLEASE NOTE THAT THIS A CHANGE IN THE WEEK THAT WE MEET

Any other questions, please call your President Ken Johnson. (408)466-6764.

A guy is imprisoned for his first time. On his first night, a few minutes after lights out, his cellmate moves closer to the cell bars. Awhile later, someone from another cell shouts "Number 13!" His cellmate and the entire block burst into laughter. The new prisoner finds this strange.

Shortly after they were done laughing, another inmate shouts "33!" and the entire block of inmates again starts laughing. "27!" shouts another inmate. More laughter follows. The new prisoner is now completely puzzled.

"What's going on? Why is everyone laughing at numbers?" he asks the cellmate.

"Oh!" replies the cellmate, still giggling. "Thing is, we've been in here for so long, we've told the same jokes until we eventually know them all, so we decided to give them numbers. So instead of saying the entire joke, you just say the number and we know which one it is."

Astonished, the new prisoner decides to see if that's true. He goes over to the cell bars and shouts "Number 72!" All the inmates explode into a massive laughter. The entire block is roaring, to the point where his cellmate is now on the floor, rolling with laughter. The new prisoner is now dumbstruck and completely lost.

"Which one is Number 72?" he asks the cellmate.

In between laughs, while trying to catch his breath, his cellmate says, "We've never heard that one before!"

Two 90-year-old guys, Leo and Frank, had been friends all their lives. When it became clear that Leo didn't have much time left to live, Frank visited him every day.

One day Frank said, "Leo, we both loved playing baseball all our lives. Please do me one favor. When you get to heaven, somehow you must let me know if there's baseball there."

Leo looked up at Frank from his deathbed and said, "Frank, you've been my best friend for many years. If it's at all possible, I'll do this favor for you."

Shortly after that, Leo passed on.

A few nights later Frank was awakened from a sound sleep by a blinding flash of white light. A voice called out to him: "Frank!.....Frank!"

"Who is it?" asked Frank, sitting up suddenly.

"Who is it? Leo! It's me. Leo."

"You're not Leo. Leo just died."

"I'm telling you it's me. Leo," insisted the voice.

"Leo! Where are you?"

"In heaven, and I have some really good news and a little bad news."

"Tell me the good news first," said Frank.

"The good news is that there's baseball in heaven. Better yet, all of our old buddies who died before us are here, too. Better than that, we're all young again. Better still, it's always springtime, and it never rains or snows. And best of all, we can play baseball all we want, and we never get tired."

"That's fantastic!" said Frank. "It's beyond all my wildest dreams! So what's the bad news?"

"You're pitching next Tuesday."
